

Sample Interview Questions for Ed Southern,
Editor of *Voices of the American Revolution in the Carolinas

What makes the Revolution in the Carolinas of particular importance?

In compiling this book, did you get a sense of the personalities of historic figures such as Lord Cornwallis, Nathanael Greene, Francis Marion, and Banastre Tarleton?

Were the writers of these narratives all well-known figures in the war?

How did most people in the Carolinas feel about the Revolution? Were they mostly Patriots, mostly Tories, or split down the middle?

How many people lived in the Carolinas at the time of the Revolution?

Can you still visit many of the sites mentioned in your book?

What's the most interesting thing you learned while researching this book?

Will you be autographing copies of the book locally?

Where can I buy a copy of Voices of the American Revolution in the Carolinas?